NEWS BY THE PAPERS.

From Tennessee--Governor Brownlow's Message.

NASHVILLE October 2.—Governor Brownlow's annual message to the Tennessee Legislature, which met today congratulates the people in witnessing the termination of the rebellion.—Amendments and additions to the franchise laws are recommended. The restoration of civil law, he says, has worked well and prosperity is promised in every section. Guilty rebels should be treated with severity in proportion to their offences, the mass with neither mercy or forbearance. Emigration should be fostered and encouraged. He is convinced that white and colored people cannot live together, politically or socially, as equals, and he advocates their removal to some portion of the national territory best adapted for a nation of freemen. The testimony of negroes he recommends to be taken in the courts. President Johnson's reconstruction policy is strongly endorsed as the sole hope of the country.

General Grant on the Mexican Question A Doubtful Statement.

A Philadelphia dispatch asserts that General Grant in a recent conversation. declared that the Government of the United States will vindicate the Monroe doctrine at an early day, and that Maximilian must leave Mexico. It is further stated that General Grant said that the Administration at Washington held the above as a settled purpose, and only await the meeting of Congress to take open action in the matter.

A very doubtful story.

GREELEY AGAIN ADVOCATES SECESSION.—A despatch to the Chicago Times gives an account of the lecture of Horace Greeley at St. Paul, Minnesota, on the 20th ultimo. He spoke before the Library Association of that city, and his topic was "The East and West." He deprecated any hostility between these sections; advocated a protective tariff; said the very differences between the East and West were to their mutual advantage; charged the whole world and credited New England with organizing public schools; alluded to his famous position that the Union could never be pinned together with bayonets; said he had nothing to retract—it was as true now as when he said it. Whenever any portion of this Union were deliberately convinced that the Union was oppressive or contrary to their highest interest, that moment the Union was at an end. He said if the Pacific States should at any time deliberately make up their mind to quit the Union, and would apply peaceably and politely for the privilege, he would be in favor of letting them go. and that he was opposed to coercion. These sentiments, it is said, were feebly applauded.

The Minnesota Press stigmatizes this as South Carolina doctrine; and the despatch says truthfully that if a Democrat had made such a speech he would have hazarded his personal safety.

Between the doctrine of Summer. that the Southern States have gone out of the Union and are extinct, and the theory of Greeley, that the Western States may go out whenever they deliberately resolve to do so, what becomes of the Union?—Albany Argus

The President has ordered the release of Gov. Charles Clark, of Mississippi, who has been imprisoned for some months past at Fort Pulaski, near Savannah

Lieutenant and Professor Maury is in Washington, seeking pardon

The Grand Masonic Lodge of Tennessee met at Nashville, for the first time in four years, on Monday last. Large deputations were in attendance from all parts of the State.

Speech of Gen. Slocum at Home.

A serenade was given to General Slocum the Democratic candidate for Secretary of State, of New York, at Syracuse, on the 28 ult., upon his return from Mississippi, which was numerously attended. W. C Ruger, Esq., was deputed by the citizens to welcome the General, who in response replied as follows:

"My fellow citizens:—For the first time since the commencement of the war I have returned to my home with the expectation of remaining here permanently. All the armed foes of our Government have been subdued, and peace. with all its gentle influences, has again dawned upon our land. A ready its effects are felt in every city and at every fireside. We have abundant reason to hope that civil law will soon prevail throughout the entire country. and that the question as to the treatment of the States recently in rebellion will, under the wise policy adopted by the President, be settled in a manner best calculated to promote the true interests of all classes of citizens in those States."

DEATH OF PRESIDENT WAYLAND.—Rev. Dr. Wayland, for twenty-five years President of Brown (Baptist) University, in Providence. Rhode Island. died on the 30th. of paralysis, aged 69 years. Few of our college presidents have won and retained a more enviable fame than Dr. Wayland, or have left their labors with a better record for the further instruction of their pupils. The deceased will be better remembered as an author than as a teacher. He published "Elements of Moral Science," "Elements of Political economy," "University Sermons," "Limitations of Human Responsibility," "Life of Rev. Adoniram Judson, D D." "Intellectual Philosophy," "Notes on the Principles and Practices of Baptists," "Occasional Discourses," "Sermons to the Churches," and a correspondence carried on with Rev. Dr Fuller (of Baltimore,) in 1845 styled "Christianity and Slavery."

POST OFFICE MISSION.—Mr. B. B. Vassall, special agent post office department, in charge of the post office in this city some time since, and who has just been relieved by Mr. Poisson, the regularly appointed officer. leaves this afternoon for Newbern, where he will remain for a few days before proceeding on a mission through the States of North and South Carolina, regulating the mail service and attending to other matters connected with the postal service. The efficiency displayed by this gentleman while here guarantees the misson a satisfactory result.—Wilmington Journal.

5. Because it is peculiarly adapted to all classes, old and young.

6. Because it is purely vegetable—not a dye.

7 Because it kills hair eaters, and makes the hair luxuriant and soft.

8 Because it cures all humors and diseases of the scalp.

THE DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, Editor.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1865.

OUR TERMS.

THE SENTINEL is issued every morning (Sunday excepted) at the following rates:

For six months, - - - - -	$5,00
For one month - - - - -	1,00
" two months - - - - -	2,00

Our terms are invariably in advance. The scarcity of money however, obliges us to say to our friends, that responsible and prompt persons who desire the Sentinel need not delay sending us their names at once, who can send us the Cash in a short time. The money may be sent us by the Rail Road Conductors or the Express Company.

To-day we were going down the street and met a man scarcely able to stand, and certainly not able to walk. After much reeling and rocking, and a great deal of teedling and cutting cheese, he clung to a lamp-post, whereunto he pulled and pushed, and butted and jostled, and snatched; finally he lost his gripe and fell sprawling on his back.

It struck us at once, that this man was giving the lamp-post a warm and hearty support after the style which the Sentinel gives a warm and hearty support to President Johnson's and Governor Holden's administrations.—Standard.

It may be fortunate that the Standard did not strike its head against the lamp post, rather than against the Sentinel.

The Sentinel does most warmly and heartily support the administration of President Johnson so far as it has been developed. His reconstruction policy commands our admiration. The more it is developed, the more we admire it and the more we admire the President. Planting his foot upon the Constitution, he has firmly maintained his purpose to restore the States to their original status, with the least possible friction. He has braved so far the radicalism of the party which brought him into office, and stands not upon policy, but upon right and justice and constitutional requirement. The entire people of the South, except those excluded in the fourteen exceptions, who will take the oath of amnesty, he admits to be loyal, absolved from guilt, pardoned, restored and innocent. He has shown no disposition to keep under the ban, even that large class of persons embraced in his thirteenth exception, unless difficulties are presented which he cannot at present overcome. It has been confidently asserted that he even contemplates a general amnesty. In fine, the President shows that in his own heart, there is no obstacle to his extending his arms around the whole people of the South, and drawing them to his embrace. He is held back doubtless by what he deems to be the imperious claims of duty to the whole country, and the demands of those at the North who are not so liberal.

Now, we say emphatically and deliberately, that we do most warmly and heartily sustain the President, and we defy the Standard or any one else to show that we have not done so, in every iota, from the beginning to the present time.

The Sentinel is pledged to give to Gov. Holden's administration a fair and honest support. We have never said that we could give his administration a warm and hearty support, but we have used the terms fair and honest, for the reason that there are acts of his administration which we did not and could not approve; not that we question his motives, but doubted their wisdom and propriety. We have lost no opportunity to give our approval to any act of his which we could approve, and have refrained from expressing disapprobation, except when public duty required it. We defy the Standard to show otherwise.

Gov. Holden has the best opportunity a man could have to unite public sentiment in North Carolina entirely in favor of the manner in which he carries out the President's policy. Everybody approves of that policy. He has no friend living who more sincerely desires than we do, that his entire administration should give universal satisfaction. But we must say to him in all candor, that the people do not render that hearty approval of it, which we have most ardently desired. They may be laboring under false impressions. We have time and again intimated that the Standard was responsible for some of those impressions. If those impressions do him injustice, we are anxious to contribute to their removal. The Governor knows we are incapable of doing him or any one else an intentional injustice or unkindness, but the course of the Standard forces us thus to speak.

The intimation of the Progress that the Sentinel desires to organize opposition to Gov. Holden or to revive "Confederate" issues, is as base as it is untrue. No one has more sincerely desired unanimity—none have desired to give a more cordial and hearty support to Gov. Holden than the Sentinel, as its uniform course has shown.—If the Sentinel cannot warmly and heartily endorse Gov. Holden's manner of carrying out the President's reconstruction policy, it shall not be our fault. The Sentinel is conservative—out and out conservative, and its editor has never been anything else and never will be. But it believes that those who hold conservative doctrines, should also be conservative in practice and temper. Conservative doctrines carried to extremes by violent tempers, often become ultra and destructive. This constitutes the ground of our objection to some who call themselves conservatives.

COTTON, &c.—We learn that at Col. Harris' sale of the property of the late Dr. Mann in Franklin County, cotton sold at 50 cents per pound, in gold or its equivalent, at six months credit.

No loyal man proposes to repudiate any honest debt of the State, but no loyal man feels under any obligation to assume the payment of the Confederate bonds issued by Jefferson Davis, the State bonds issued by rebel Legislatures and Convention to carry on the war, or the blockade bills of Zebulon B. Vance contracted for the benefit of himself and his stallfederate associates.—Progress.

When a man contracts a debt and receives the consideration stipulated, it is an honest debt, and every honest man will pay it if he can. All honest men will pay a gambling debt if they can. Will they not? Does the illegality of a debt affect its integrity, its moral character?

We admit that the war debt is illegal. We hold that North Carolina had no constitutional right, no legal right to make war upon the government of the United States. We admit that a creditor of the State in coming into court with such a claim, based upon its legality, would be driven out or non suited. And so would every creditor who holds a gambling debt, an usurious debt, or any other illegal debt; but if the party made the contract and received the consideration, if he be an honest man he is bound to pay it.

But who expects the State to "assume the payment of the Confederate bonds issued by Jefferson Davis?" Who ever thought of it? It is one of the demagogical tricks of the author to blind the ignorant and unwary. "Or the blockade bonds of Zebulon B. Vance, contracted for the benefit of himself and his stallfederate associates." This reckless, and unprincipled paper has time and again attempted to implicate the integrity of Gov. Vance and his associates in the management of the blockade business. That paper knows that its statement is false when it makes it. It prefers falsehood to truth whenever it suits its purpose. That mendacious print will be made to eat its own words, whenever its principal editor is called to account for such unblushing effrontery and falsehood. A gentleman of the highest standing, remarked to us a few days ago, that none but the North Carolina and Confederate soldiers, ever received any direct benefit from the blockading business. That gentleman is acquainted more throughly perhaps with the business, than any other man. But the reader must not suppose that we design to defend Z. B. Vance against the malignity and mendacity of the Progress. He is above reproach or suspicion and we beg his pardon for mentioning his name in the same connection.

For the Sentinel.

Lieutenant Governor.

MR. EDITOR:—Allow me to correct an historical fact in your article a few numbers back, on the subject of Lieutenant Governor. You stated that no Speaker of the Senate, who had succeeded to the vacant Governor's chair, had been elected or continued in office. This is an error. The first occurrence of this contingency was during our Revolution in 1782, when Gov. Burke was captured by the enemy and carried off. The Hon. Alex. Martin, Speaker of the Senate, succeeded to the vacancy and officiated during Gov Burke's captivity; and the next year was elected to succeed him, and was re-elected, and served his constitutional term, and was again elected in 1789. And it is a little singular, that when again in the Legislature in 1805, and again Speaker of the Senate, he was a second time, during a severe illness of Gov. Alexander, called to officiate as Governor.

In 1854 Gov. Reid was chosen United States Senator, a few days before his Gubernatorial term expired, and his successor, already elected, could not qualify by the terms of the constitution till the 1st day of January. And during that brief interval of a few days, Mr. Speaker Winslow of the Senate occupied the Governor's office.

In 1861, Gov. Ellis, a few months after his qualification, died, and Mr. Speaker Clark of the Senate, became Governor for the balance of the term.

Gov. Clark was placed in office in the most trying time to the country that had ever occurred in its history, and to give his undivided attention and energy to his duties, free from any bias or imputation of any party or personal views, he, at the beginning of his term, promptly gave notice of his intention of not being a candidate for the succession.

Thus in 88 years (from 1776 to 1875) there has in fact been but two instances when the Speaker of the Senate has been called to the discharge of the Gubernatorial duties, Gov. Martin and Gov. Clark. The first was a candidate for the succession and elected. The latter expressly declined being a candidate. Your statement, then, that no ex-officio Governor had been elected Governor, is erroneous; and if any inference can be deduced from this statement, it is favorable instead of unfavorable to the constitution as it now stands.

Out of thirty-two Governors who have been elected since the formation of our constitution in 1776, twelve have been Speakers in the Legislature.

The ordinary duties of the Governor are plain and mostly ministerial, requiring honesty and practical good sense, rather than eloquence or statesmanship; and the Speakers of the Legislature are generally from the ablest men in their bodies.

Whenever any manifest cause or great change of circumstances require it, amend the constitution in that particular; but touch it not for light or ordinary purposes. One change will induce another, and when alterations are made, particularly an important one, we lose reverence for it and are ready to change it with any change of weather. HISTORICUS.

We are obliged to our correspondent for the historical correction of an error made by us. We did not by any means intend to disparage the claims or the administration of any one who had filled the office of Governor by virtue of their being Speaker of the Senate, and if our recollection of the history of the State had been as perfect as that of "Historicus," we should not have made the point we did. Our simple object was to show that the feature in the constitution which makes the Speaker of the Senate the Governor in certain cases, did not accord with the idea generally entertained, that he who fills the office of Governor, should be elected directly by the people.—[EDITOR SENTINEL.

POSTMASTER.—Mr. Wyatt Linster has been appointed Postmaster for Statesville.

North Carolina State Convention.

RALEIGH Oct. 7th, 1865.

The Convention was opened with prayer by the Rev. T. E. Skinner of the Baptist Church.

The minutes of yesterday's session were read and approved.

Mr. Williams the delegate frem Greene presented his credentials and was qualified

Messrs. McCleese of Tyrell, and Johnston of Washington were permitted to record their votes in favor of the passage of the ordinance declaring null and void the ordinance of May 20th, 1861, as well as against the substitute of Mr. Ferebee of Camden, they being absent yesterday on account of illness.

RESOLUTIONS AND ORDINANCES.

Mr. Nicholson of Duplin introduced a resolution to re-organize the militia.

Resolved, That a special committee of five be appointed, whose duty it shall be to enquire into the expediency of reorganizing the militia of the State, and to report an ordinance for that purpose, if it deem a necessity for such organization to exist or likely to exist in a short time.

By Mr. N. A. McLean. An ordinance to abolish slavery:

We the delegates of the people of the State of North Carolina, in Convention assembled, acquiescing in the result of the late conflict of arms between the Government of the United States and the States of the South, by which the institution of slavery has been destroyed, do ordain and declare, and it is hereby ordained and declared that slavery and involuntary servitude, otherwise than in the punishment of crimes, whereof the parties shall have been duly convicted shall be, and is hereby prohibited within the State.

By Mr. Starbuck of Forsythe,

AN ORDINANCE TO PROTECT THE FREEDMEN FROM THE EVIL EFFECTS OF INTEMPERANCE.

The ordinance provides for an annual tax on every gallon of liquor manufactured within the State, equal to the tax levied on two hundred dollars worth of land and double that amount levied on liquor manufactured without the State.

By Mr. Faulkner of Surry,

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE HOMESTEADS.

The ordinance provides that there shall be in favor of every house keeper, who may be the head of a family, a homestead of fifty acres, exempt from execution and sale on all debts, which may be hereafter contracted or made, except for the payment of the public taxes or the purchase money of said lands. The said homestead to include the mansion house and all out houses, &c.

These resolutions lie over.

Mr. Love of Jackson, offered a resolution of thanks to Messrs. Branson & Farrar for a map of the State of North Carolina they had presented to the Convention. The President called the attention of the members to the map, which is suspended in the hall.

The resolution under a suspension of the rules, passed its several readings.

Mr. Jones, of Henderson, introduced a resolution inquiring into the propriety of limiting the number of Magistrates and electing them by the people.

Mr. N. A. McLean, of Robeson, moved to refer the resolution to the Committee on Magistrates. So referred.

Mr. Conigland, of Halifax, moved to take up his resolutions introduced on Thursday last, asking information of the Governor in regard to the specie value of the State war debt. Mr. Conigand wished to be understood as not favorng any action of this body upon the matter, but an ordinance had already been introduced upon the subject, and the Convention required information on the subject, so that if the question did arise, we could act knowingly upon the subject. The resolution was taken up.

Mr. Donnell, of Beaufort, opposed the motion. The Governor was not a broker and had no better opportunity of judging of the specie valuation of the debt than the delegates did. A proper subject of enquiry would be the amounts and times of issue of the bonds and notes, and history unfortunately tell the specie valuation of them.

Mr. McDonald, of Moore, thought this was an entering wedge into a wide and long discussion upon the subject of the public debt. He should oppose it.

Upon motion of Mr. Donnell, of Beaufort, the resolutions were laid upon the table.

Mr. McCoy, of Sampson, introduced the following resolution which lies over under the rule:

Whereas, it apprars from the vote of this Convention (upon the ordinance passed for the purpose of declaring null and void, the ordinance of secession of the Convention of 1861), that there is a want of unanimity among the members of this Convention as to the desire to return North Cnrolina to her allegiance to the Federal Government:

Therefore, be it retolved, That the delegates of this Convention, as reflecting the sentiments of the people of the State, unanimously desire the early restoration of North Carolina to her Federal relations with the other States, comprising the Government of the United States under the constitutional Union.

Mr. Settle, of Rockingham, an ordinance recognizing the just debts of North Carolina, and prohibiting the payment of all public debts created or incurred in aid of the late rebellion.

1. Be it declared and ordained by the delegates of the people of the State of North Carolina, in Convention assembled, and it is hereby declared and ordained, that it shall be the duty of the General Assembly of the State, so soon as it is practicable, to provide for the payment of all debts and obligations created or incurred by the State, otherwise than in aid of the late rebellion.

2. Be it further declared and ordained, that all debts and obligations created or incurred by the State, in aid of the late rebellion directly or indirectly, are void, and no General Assembly of this State shall have power to assume, or provide for the payment of the same, or any portion thereof; nor shall any General Assembly of this State have power to assume, or provide for the payment of any portion of the debts or obligations created or incurred directly or indirectly, by the late so-called Confederate States, or by its agents or under its authority. Lies over.

RESOLUTIONS AND ORDINANCES ON THEIR SECOND READING.

Resolution of inquiry concerning the debt introduced by Mr. Jackson of Randolph was read and failed to pass.

An ordinance to order at an early day the election of municipal officers throughout the State introduced by Mr. Jones of Rowan, was upon motion of Mr. Phillips of Orange laid on the table.

The ordinance of Mr. Jones of Rowan, to repeal the Ordinance of Secession, was upon his own motion laid on the table.

The following resolutions of Mr. Love of Jackson, providing for alterations in the Constitution, were taken up and referred to the committee on Constitutional Amendments.

Resolved, That the State of North Carolina restore her political relations with the government of the United States by returning to the Union, and that this Convention will adopt such measures as in their judgment, will accomplish that object.

Resolved, That the constitution of this State shall be so amended as to that the institution of slavery having been destroyed, is forever prohibited in this State.

Resolved, That the basis of representation in the House of Commons, shall be the white population of the State.

Resolved, That the basis of representation in the Senate shall be based upon the white population and taxation.

Resolved, That no person shall be eligible to the office of Governor unless he has attained the age of twenty-five years, and has been a citizen of North Carolina for five years next preceding his election.

Resolved, That a Lieutenant Governor shall be elected at the same time and for the same term, as the Governor, and his qualifications and manner of election in all respects the same; that in the case of the removal of the Governer from office or of his death, failure to qualify, resignation, removal from the State or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the office, the said office, with its compensation, shall devolve upon the Lieutenant Governor, and the General Assembly shall provide by law for the discharge of the Executive functions in other necessary cases; that the Lieutenant Governor shall be Speaker of the Senate but shall have no vote: and while acting as such, shall receive a compensation equal to that allowed to the speaker of the House of Commons.

The ordinance prohibiting slavery in the State of North Carolina came up on its second reading,

Mr. Odom of Northampton moved to amend by striking out all after the enacting clause and inserting, "that the institution of slavery having been destroyed in the State of North Carolina, hereafter, neither slavery nor involuntary servitude shall ever exist in this State, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted."

Mr. Smith of Johnson moved to amend the amendment by inserting after the words "North Carolina," the words, "by the secessionists," which he subsequently reduced.

Mr. Odom sustained his amendment in a few remarks, wishing only to embrace in the ordinance an historical fact.

Mr. Settle thought the language of the ordinance was plain and simple. It was not the language of the ordinance of 1787, but that of the Missouri Compromise. If delegates desired to recite history, let it state the whole truth—let it say that a large majority of the people of North Carolina predicted that such would be the fate of slavery, if the South went to war. Why did gentlemen wish to put in so sacred an instrument our wound, to stand there for ever—to hold up a looking glass to reflect our disasters—they are too indeliably stamped on our people ever to be forgotten.

Mr. Brown of Caswell agreed with the delegate from Rockingham (Mr. Settle.) It was not usual to engraft on the fundamental law, the circumstances which produced it—history will fully explain it. The amendment did not pass.

Mr. Warren called the ays and nays upon the passage of the ordinance, which resulted as follows. Those who voted in the affirmative are

Mr. President, Messrs. Adams, Alexander, Baines, Baker, Barrow, Beam, Bell, Berry, Bingham, Boyden, Bradley, Brickell, Brown, Brooks, Bryan, Burgin, Buxton, Bynum, Caldwell, of Burke, Caldwell, of Guilford, Clark, Conigland, Dickey, Dockery, Donnell, Eaton, Ellis, Faircloth, Faison, Faulkner, Furches, Garland, Garrett, Gilliam, Godwin, Grissom, Harris, of Guilford, Harris, of Rutherford, Haynes, Hanraban, Henry, Hodge, Jackson, Jarvis, Johnston, Jones, of Columbus, Jones, of Davidson, Jones, of Henderson, Jones, of Rowan, Joyner, Kelly, Kennedy, King, Lash, Logan, Love, of Chatham, Love, of Jackson, Lyon, Manly, McCauley, McCleese, McCorkle, McDonald, of Chatham, McDonald, of Moore, McGehee, McIver, McKay, N. A. McLean, Nat. McLean, McLaughlin, McRae, Mebane, Moore, of Chatham, Moore, of Wake, Murphy, Nicholson, Norfleet, Odom, Patterson, Perkins, Phillips, Polk, Pool, Rumley, Russell, Rush, Saunders, Settle, Sloan, Smith, of Anson, Smith, of Johnston, Smith, of Wilkes, Spencer, of Hyde, Spencer, of Montgomery, Starbuck, Stephenson, Stewart, Stubbs, Swan, Thompson, Walkup, Ward, Warren, Willey, Williams, Winburne, Winston, Wright.—103. Negative—none. So the ordinance passed its second reading.

It was announced by the friends of the delegate from Wilson, (Judge Howard), the delegate from Hertford (Mr. Cooper), and the delegate from Pesquimans (Mr. Wilson), were indisposed, which accounted for their absence. Mr. Wilson was for the same reason, absent on yesterday. Notice was given that they would ask permission to record their votes on the ordinance.

On motion of Mr. Settle, the rules were suspended, and the ordinance passed its third reading.

Mr. Moore of Wake called up the "ordinance providing for the election of the members of a General Assembly, to be convened on the third Monday of November, 1865, and for electing representatives to Congress," and moved to amend by way of additional sections providing for the election of Governor. [The ordinance as it passed the Convention, is reported below.]

Mr. Bynum of Lincoln moved an amendment abolishing property qualifications for members of the General Assembly.

Mr. Phillips of Orange observed that the delegate's amendment, if adopted, would incorporate upon a temporary ordinance only, when he supposed the gentleman intended to alter permanently the constitution.

Mr. Bynum so altered his amendment, as to apply only to the first election. The amendment did not prevail.

Mr. Love of Jackson offered an amendment to elect at the same time a Lieutenant Governor.

Mr. Phillips remarked that this amendment was subject to the same objection with that of the delegate from Lincoln, (Mr. Bynum.) Rejected.

Mr. Furches of Davie offered an amendment to provide for the election of Sheriffs and Clerks, and Mr. Stewart of Buncombe, one providing for the election of Judges of the Superior Court by the people. Both the amendments rejected.

Other amendments were offered, but of an immaterial character.

Mr. Moore of Wake moved to suspend the rules in order to put the ordinance on its third reading.

Mr. Caldwell of Burke objected. He thought the ordinance should not pass until the committee on the re-districting the State should report.

Mr. Moore's motion prevailed, and the ordinance passed its third reading.

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE ELECTION OF THE MEMBERS OF A GENERAL ASSEMBLY, TO BE CONVENED ON THE THIRD MONDAY OF NOVEMBER, 1865, AND FOR ELECTING REPRESENTATIVES IN CONGRESS, AND GOVERNOR OF THE STATE.

Be it ordained by the delegates of the people of the State of North Carolina, in Convention assembled, and it is hereby ordained by the authority of the same. That a General Assembly of the State shall be convened on the third Monday of November, 1865, the members whereof shall hold their places till the next election of such members, which shall be held on the first Thursday of August, 1866.

2. Be it further ordained, That the Provisional Governor is hereby directed to issue forthwith to the sheriff of each county, a writ directing that an election be held for the Senators and members of the House of Commons of such General Assembly, on the second Thursday of November, next, under the rules, regulations and provisions of chapter fifty-two of the Revised Code.

3. Be it further ordained, That immediately on the receipt of the writ, each Sheriff shall summon the Justices of the Peace of the Courts of Pleas and Quarter Sessions to assemble at the Court House, on a day appointed by him, which shall be as early as practicable, and they, or so many as may assemble, shall appoint inspectors for each place of election, who shall be forthwith notified of their appointment by the Sheriff, and they shall conduct the elections, and make returns of the polls in the manner prescribed in said chapter.

4. Be it further ordained, That the Sheriff or Sheriffs shall proclaim the results of the elections, and grant certificates to those elected, as provided in said chapter.

5. Be it further ordained, That each member and voter shall be qualified, according to the new existing Consitution of the State: Provided, however, That no one shall be eligible to a seat, or be capable of voting, who, being free in all respects, shall not, before the 29th day of May, 1865 either have voluntarily taken and subscribed the oath of amnesty prescribed in the proclamations of President Lincoln, with the purpose to suppress the insurrection and restore the authority of the United States, and thenceforward shall have observed the same; or who shall not have taken and subscribed the oath of amnesty prescribed in the proclamtion of President Johnson, bearing date 29th day of May, 1865; and who, moreover, shall not, in either case, be of those who are excepted from the amnesty granted by any of the said proclamations, unless pardoned; But, provided also, That all persons who may have preferred petitions for pardon, shall be deemed to have been pardoned, if the fact of being pardoned shall be announced by the Governor, although the pardon may not have been received.

6. Be it further ordained, That for the purpose of ascertaining the qualifications of persons proposing to vote, the inspectors may, and it shall be their duty, whenever the vote may be challenged, or they shall have cause to suspect that he is not duly qualified, examine him and others, on oath, touching the question.

7. Be it further ordained, That at the same time and places, elections shall be held for seven Representatives in the Congress of the United States, in pursuance of chapter sixty-nine of the Revised Code, which shall be conducted under the rules and regulations therein prescribed for such elections, and the voters in said elections shall be such only as shall be qualified to vote for members of the House of Commons, and the Provisional Governor shall give the certificate required by the ninth section of said chapter.

8. Be it further ordained, That at the same time and places, an election shall be held for a Governor of the State under the rules and regulations prescribed in chapter fifty-three of the Revised Code, and the persons qualified to vote for members of the House of Commons under this ordinance, shall be qualified to vote for Governor.

9. Be it further ordained, That no person shall be eligible as Governor, unless he shall be qualified according to the Constitution of the State, and also shall be capable, under the provisions of this ordinance of voting for members of the General Assembly.

10. Be it further ordained, That the Governor thus elected shall take his seat so soon as the authority of the Provisional Governor ceases, either before the first day of January, 1866, or afterwards, before the first day of January, 1867.

11. Be it further ordained, That the Governor thus elected shall continue in office until the first day of January, 1867.

12. Be it further ordained, That it shall be in the power of the General Assembly to modify so much of this ordinance as relates to the provisions for electing the Governor and his term of office.

Permission was granted to Messrs. Gahagan of Madison and Ferebee of Camden, to record their vote on the ordinance abolishing slavery. They voted in the affirmative.

Mr. Phillips of Orange, moved that "an ordinance declaring what laws and ordinances are in force and for other purposes, be referred to the committee on that subject." It was so referred.

The resolutions of Mr. Allen of Duplin, in regard to certain amendments to the Constitution, were referred to the committee on Constitutional Amendments.

The resolutions of Mr. Ellis of Catawba, returning thanks to President Johnson and Governor Holden, were upon his motion referred to a special committee.

The President appointed on the committee Messrs. Ellis, Catawba; Warren, Beaufort; Spencer, Montgomery; Kennedy, Wayne; Nath. McLean, Robeson.

Mr. Settle, moved that a committee of eleven be appointed to whom all matters relating to public and private debts should be referred.—Adopted.

Mr. Settle desired that the ordinance he had offered to-day in regard to the public debt, should be referred to the committee. It was so referred.

Mr. Furches of Davie moved that the resolutions he had upon a former day introduced relating to legislation upon private debts contracted during the war, be referred to this committee. So ordered.

Upon motion of Mr. King of Lenoir, the Convention adjourned until 10 o'clock Monday morning.

THE SHENANDOAH.—The commander of this celebrated steamer, Capt. James I. Waddell, is a North Carolinian. He was born and raised at Hillsboro.

THE "RELIGIOUS HERALD."—This influential Baptist paper has passed into the hands of Rev. J. B. Jeter, D. D., and Rev. A. E. Dickinson. They will be aided by Rev. Dr. Shaver and a number of the best writers of the denomination.

The Debate.

We regret that our space prevented a full report of the entire debate on the ordinance abolishing the secession ordinance. We have heard the speeches of Messrs. Phillips, Pool, Howard, Brown, Eaton, Moore and Ferrebee specially spoken of. If we had space we would be glad to lay them before our readers.

We regret that we can not supply the demand for back numbers to our new subscribers.

THE PRESIDENT AND HIS POLITICS.—According to the New York Tribune, "the President informed Dean Richmond that he should in no wise interfere with New York politics; that he considered himself pledged to no party, and that only those who approved of his present policy could be regarded as his friends. He further stated that the policy of reconstruction which he is now pursuing is not an experiment, but the settled course which he has determined to carry out without a reference to the wishes of any party."

Such sentiments as the above carry us back to the good old days of the Republic. President Johnson is pledged to no party. He will do his duty without reference to the wishes of any party. That is precisely the kind of President demanded by the times.—[ED. SENTINEL.

The following is the ordinance passed by the Convention on Friday last, making null and void the Ordinance of Secession passed May 20th, 1861:

AN ORDINANCE DECLARING NULL AND VOID THE ORDINANCE OF MAY 20th, 1861,

Be it declared and ordained by the delegates of the good people of the State of North Carolina in Convention assembled, and it is hereby declared and ordained, That the ordinance of the Convention of the State of North Carolina, ratified on the 21st day of November, 1789, which adopted and ratified the Constitution of the United States, and also all acts and parts of acts of the General Assembly ratifying and adopting amendments to the said Constitution, are now, and at all times since the adoption and ratification thereof have been, in full force and effect, notwithstanding the supposed Ordinance of the 20th day of May, 1861, declaring the same to be repealed, rescinded and abrogated, and the said supposed ordinance is now, and at all times hath been, null and void.

If You are Threatened with Pneumonia,

Read the following from Capt. W. P. Davis, of Petersburg, Va.:

"Sympathy for the suffering prompts me to certify that my servant man was suffering in the last stage of Pneumonia, throwing up matter and blood in great quantities; his case was considered entirely hopeless, so much so, that there was no medical perscription used for his recovery; I regarded him as good as dead. Hearing of the great cures made by the SOUTHERN HEPATIC PILLS, I thought that I would try an experiment on him; without any hope of success; however, I gave the Pills in large doses; in a short time, to my great surprise, there was a change for the better; I continued giving them to him, until he became a perfectly sound man. He is now attending to his work with as much strength and vigor as he ever did.—With his case, and what I have seen and heard of the good effects of these Pills, I do most earnestly recommend them as the best family medicine I have ever seen or used."

PLANTATION FOR RENT.

I OFFER TO RENT FOR ONE YEAR, OR LEASE for five, my plantation in Pitt County, containing between eleven and twelve hundred acres, three hundred of which are well cleared and well adapted to the culture of cotton. A part of the land has been well maried and manured, and not having been cultivated in two years, will produce fine crops. The fencing has been destroyed, and the buildings much abused, and for this reason I will lease for five years for one fourth of the crop, provided that the plantation shall be returned in good repair, and that not less than 150 acres shall be planted in cotton any year of the lease.

DAILY SENTINEL.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1865.

(From the New Orleans Picayune.)

A Faithful Negro.

Died, on the 1st of September, 1865, at Zama Plantation, Miss., Clay Smith, well known for many years to the relatives and friends of the family as the foster-brother, friend and manager of Col. J. F. H. Claiborne. He had been the body servant of the late Gen. Ferdinand Lee Claiborne of Natchez, and took part in the battle of the Holy Ground, where he was severely wounded. He was in Fort Mims and only escaped that dreadful massacre by leaving with a dispatch for Gen. C from the ill-fated commander Major Beasley, two hours before the Indians surprised the fort. For Clay's good conduct during the Indian War, Gen. C. gave him his freedom, but he refused to accept it.

During the Murrel excitement in 1836, when the central counties of Mississippi were under martial law from an apprehended insurrection of the negroes, and many persons, white and colored, were summarily executed, Clay had charge of 100 negroes in Madison County, the focus of the excitement, and by his prudence and discipline, and the universal confidence reposed in him, it was almost the only plantation in the country that escaped suspicion. There was no overseer on the place; for six weeks he permitted no one to leave or enter the premises; and he stood guard every night around the dwelling of his mistress. On his master's return from Congress, he offered him his freedom and a farm, but he refused to accept them. The Governor of Mississippi, (the late Hiram G. Runnels,) who had been an eye witness of his conduct, presented him a certificate, on parchment, of his fidelity; and Col. R. M. Williamson, Col. John M. Elder, Col. Fulton, Gen. C. M. Price, Col. G. R. Fail, and other distinguished citizens, made up a purse of $300 for him.

When the emancipation proclamation appeared, his master read it to him, and offered to send him to New Orleans with ample provision for his future comfort. He declined the boon and to the last steadily exhorted his fellow servants to remain at their homes, as the best way to enjoy their friend to my children. Children, master won't forget you."

He was buried with the ceremonies of the church; and as a soldier of the war of 1815, would have been interred with military honors had the weather permitted.

Clay and his ancestors have been in the Claiborne family and in direct line for one hundred and fifty years, and from generation to generation have held confidential positions. His father, Jack Smith, coachman to Colonel Thomas Claiborne, thirty years member of Congress from Virginia, was captured by the famous British partisan, Tarleton, while driving his master's chariot. The four splendid bays were turned over to the dragoons, and Jack was made groom to the Colonel. A few nights afterwards he made his escape on Tarleton's charger Scipio, which was purchased from his master and presented to the Marquis de La Fayette. Jack Smith and his descendents, in memory of this achievement, have always had a horse named Scipio. On every plantation where one of the family is found the name has been abbreviated to Sip where the animal happened to be a scrub. After the surrender of Cornwallis, Jack was emancipated but continued in the service of the family, and came with the late Governor Claiborne to Natchez in 1803.

Last night about half past twelve o'clock, a disturbance occurred on North Water street, between the police and some negro soldiers. Two shots were fired at the policemen without any damage having been done, although in the melee both felt the weight of a sabre bayonet, one of their hands having been cut pretty badly. The reporter thought he was flanked while standing near the door of Bailey's Hotel. An excited negro fired a gun at some one near the corner of Front and Princes steet, whether at him or not he could not say, but in order to be able to beat a hasty retreat he opened the hotel door and placed the thickness of the wall between him and the shooting man.

The police at first engaged were Messrs. Coley and Andrews, the latter of whom has the severe wound. Mr. Andrews was surrounded at one time by six of the soldiers, while engaged in carrying one of their number to the lock up, which was nevertheless accomplished; and it was at this time that his pistol was wrested from him. After putting the man in prison, and while returning for assistance to arrest the other, they were fired on when near the City Hotel, by one of the gang, but fortunately without injuring either. The report of the gun called together quite a number of the police, and they immediately started in search of the rascals, but they had escaped. Some half dozen made their appearance while on the search upon some trifling pretext, but they were not disturbed, although the object was perfectly apparent. These fellows were all thought to be in liquor.—Wilmington Herald 4th.

Forney and the President.

As his relations with the President are of the most confidential character, the following editorial extract from the Chronicle of yesterday is both significant and cheering. We commend its perusal to our readers:

"No better proof exists of the wisdom displayed in President Johnson's policy, than that afforded in the spectacle of a people late in rebellion returning quietly but earnestly and conscientiously to their allegiance. Not only are the masses of the South satisfied to lay down the arms of rebellion, and again come under the broad ægis of the Constitution, and partake with their Northern brethren of the benefits of the Union, but many of the most prominent Secessionists and leaders in the war, have also signified their desire and intention to lend their efforts to the restoration of peace and fraternal feeling between the two sections.

"The magnanimous position assumed by Andrew Johnson has disarmed even his most bitter, some of them, his life-long enemies. They see in his action toward the South a broad, generous and comprehensive statesmanship. While they realize that he is firm, they also confess that his heart contains those charitable feelings which accord with the poet's idea, that

'To err is human, to forgive, divine.'

SEABOARD AND ROANOKE RAILROAD.—The officers of this Road are making every effort to get the Road in running order to Weldon. All the iron necessary to its completion has been procured, and is now being shipped and sent forward on the road as fast as it arrives, therefore, in a few weeks, this important route will be opened to the Roanoke river.

PLANTATION FOR RENT.

THE SUBSCRIBER, HAVING ENGAGED IN another business, wishes to rent out his plantation for the ensuing year. He does not want more than eight, nor less than six hands worked upon it. For this number of hands, the opportunity for making a crop is unusually fine. The chance for

is very good, and for

TOBACCO AND OATS,

superior. There are seventy thousand tobacco hills which may be put in that will make good tobacco without manure, and there is plenty of the very best tobacco land that may be cleared. The location is in a very fine neighborhood, three miles from Macon Depot on the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road, and is one of the most healthy and delightful in the County. The residence contains six rooms, and there are all the necessary outhouses and a good orchard. He will sell everything necessary to carry on the farm—stock, crop, team, plantation implements, &c., &c. Address, or call upon
